Brief Items.

- They returned from a several day's hunt, and when asked what they got, replied, "got back."
Recently, Mr. Joseph Douglas residing in Ickesburg had a leg broken in two places, by falling from a ladder while engaged in trimming apple trees in Mr. John Boden's orchard.
Dick, a son of Col. McAllister, of this place was burned in the face last week,

Monday, while playing with powder. His eye lashes and eye brows were singed off, but the eyes were not injured.

Election tickets printed as low as the lowest. Send in your orders and we will send your tickets by return of mail.

Chickens have resumed business and consequently "hen fruit" is getting cheap.

Mr. Jacob Dum, has sold one of his houses in Ellittsburg, to Mrs. M. Wagner, for $825.

Woman's Suffrage is the subject for debate this, (Monday) night, in the Ellittsburg School House.

One week from to-day the Spring election is to be held. Drop politics and put only good men in office. What difference does it make whether a Supervisor or a Constable is a democrat or a republican, so that he knows his business and has the courage to perform it.

Our friend Coates Walton, Esq., of the firm of Lloyd Supplee & Walton, of Philadelphia, must have a clear conscience, which enables him to sleep very soundly. A short time since his house was entered at night and ransacked, the thieves taking the watch from under his pillow, without waking him.

A number of persons in this vicinity have the "Western fever." On Wednesday evening last, a meeting was held at Comp's School house, where those interested had an interview with Mr. C. M. Morrison, agent of the A. T. & S. F. R. R., on the subject of Kansas lands.

We have a communication complaining because a newly married man did not show himself in response to a "Call-thumpian serenade." We think the man showed remarkable good sense, but would have shown still more sense had he appeared with a shot gun well loaded with fine shot, and divided it among the crowd.

Letters of administration granted during last week: John Baskins, administrator of John McElvy, late of New Buffalo, deceased.

John Ickes with will annexed, administrator of Henry Harman, late of Saville twp., deceased.

Charlotte Rice and Jonathan Rice, administrators of Jacob Rice, late of Saville twp., deceased.

The County Account.—Those interested, (and most tax payers are), in the expenditures of the county, will find the county account in full on the 8th page. We desire to keep our readers posted on every subject and therefore give this account one insertion as reading matter.

Protracted Meeting.—Preaching may be expected in the Presbyterian church each evening this week and Communion on the 4th Sabbath of February.—Rev. J. J. Hamilton of Ickesburg and Rev. W. H. Logan of Millerstown are expected to preach during portions of the week.

A Subscriber sends us the following:—I am asked to find out regarding the birth place and parentage of Hon. A. H. Stephens of Georgia. Can you inform me if he was a native of this county? Yours Truly,

Mr. Stephens was born in the place in which he now resides. His father was a native of this State, but not of this county. He was a cousin of Mr. Wm. Stephens, a resident of Juniata township. These are all the facts we can give our correspondent.

A Saw Case.—A difficulty growing out of the disputed ownership of a cross-cut saw arose between John Kroh and W. S. Mitchell a few days ago, and to settle the matter Kroh brought an action of trover and conversion against Mitchell to recover the article or its value in money, before Esquire Zinn. Kroh alleged that the saw was a relic of by-gone days in his family, and that he never saw a saw that sawed like that saw sawed. After tracing by competent testimony that it had been in the family for years, the Squire gave judgment against Mitchell for the saw and $6.50 costs. We would have valued this saw as being worth about fifty cents in currency.—News.

List of Assignments.—The following is a list of the assignments made in this county, and put on record since Jan. 1st, 1877:

- Leonard K. Ulsh & wife to Daniel Zeigler.
John Irvin & wife to William W. McClure.
James Irvin & wife to Thomas H. Milligan.
Catharine Potter to Hiram O'Neil and John Potter.
John W. Hench to Geo. M. Stroup.
John Yohn to A. M. Fleck, Esq.
James C. Skiles & wife to G. F. Ensminger.
Levi Sweger & wife to C. Stouffer.
Geo. L. Ickes & wife to Peter Stroup.
Benjamin F. Rice & wife to John S. Wetzel.
Benjamin Rice & wife to David Kistler, Esq.
D. W. Barrack & wife to Emanuel Smith.

The above list shows that this county is getting ready for specie payment, or is coming down to hard pan prices.

Interesting Case.—A somewhat interesting case came up for consideration before B. F. Burchfield, Esq., auditor, on the 26th ult.

On the 28th day of June, 1801, John Hench, living in, what was then Milford township, Milfin county, now Turbett township, Juniata county, made his will, and soon afterward died, the will being admitted to probate December 9th of the same year.— Among other bequests he left to the children of his daughter, Christiana Sheridan, the sum of £120, which sum has never been paid the legatees, but has remained in the hands of the various Executors and Administrators until the present time, being first in the hands of John Rice, Executor of John Hague, as the testator spells it, then in the hands of William Rice, son and Executor of John Rice, and lastly in the hands of Benj. Jacobs, son-in-law and Administrator of William Rice who made the application to the Orphan's court, upon which the auditor was appointed. At the hearing of the case on the above, claims were made on behalf of one hundred and one persons, being the descendants of Elizabeth Rice, Jacob Hench and John Hench, children of the testator, and embracing families of Hench's Leonard's, Robison's, Thompson's Bessler's, Bixler's, and Marble's in Perry county, and Rice's, Jacobs', Robinson's, Saylor's, Wischaupt's, Flickinger's, McConnell's, Hench's, Calhoun's, Brackbill's, Groninger's, McMeen's and others in Juniata county, and other claimants in other parts of Pennsylvania, and some in the Western States. It does not appear that anything is known of the Sheridan family from some time before the death of the testator until now, nor does it appear that anything is known of the families of Catherine Clouse, Margaret Hartman or George Hench, the other children of the testator, nor is there any evidence that they left descendants. It is not often that money remains unclaimed in this part of the country for 75 or 76 years, and considerable interest is felt by the parties and others as to the final disposition to be made of this fund under the law and the facts of the case.— Juniata Tribune.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

A healthy child, aged about four years, of John Gearheart, near Evandale, took suddenly ill of malignant scarlet fever about two weeks ago, and died within fourteen hours. It sickened about four o'clock in the afternoon, and died the next day, afternoon.—Sentinel.

Tuesday night the store of Lucian Wilson, at Oakland Mills, one of the largest stores in the county, was entered and the safe blown open, which contained some money and quite a number of Government bonds. After robbing the safe of the money and bonds, and taking it, it is presumed, what goods they wanted, they set fire to the building, burning it down, together with the entire contents, probably $10,000 worth of goods, together with all the books and contents. There was a light insurance on the building and goods. The post-office was also kept in the store, and about $50 in stamps were either taken or burned. Everything belonging to the post-office was burned, including a large number of letters to be delivered, and to be mailed. The safe contained quite a large amount in bonds, many of which had been left with Mr. Wilson by persons in the neighborhood for safe-keeping.—Democrat and Register.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

On Thursday last Mr. Jack Riley, of the First ward borrowed an old-fashioned horse pistol to shoot a rat. The weapon felt a little extra heavy and Jack thought precaution a wise thing; consequently he placed the pistol against a door and taking a firm hold pulled the trigger. There was a shock which felt like an earthquake to Jack and a long silence. Finally Jack opened his eyes, or rather one of his eyes, and began to look around. A careful examination revealed a badly lacerated hand, a cut forehead, bruised eye and a well shocked system. The pistol had changed into a bunch of wood and iron splinters, and the rat hole at which the animal was sitting had been enlarged several inches, but nary hair or claw of the rat could be found. Possibly the force of the explosion blew him through to China, and furnished some Celestial with a rat pie dinner. On inquiry Riley learned that the pistol contained four good loads when he borrowed it, and in the light of this information Jack congratulates himself that he, also, was not blown to atoms.—Mirror.

For The Times.

SHERMANSDALE, Pa., February 6, 1877. Mr. Editor:—Permit me to furnish the readers of THE TIMES a few notes, which I have taken during my recent rambles through part of Carroll township. The directors, last fall, erected a good substantial school house in Plogah valley, and attached a porch to No. 1. school house and otherwise repaired it, which now looks almost as well as new. Carroll township contains eleven schools, and, with a few exceptions, are taught by young and inexperienced teachers; three of whom are females. Although the large number of these pedagogues are but tyros in the profession of "teaching the young ideas how to shoot," yet it is believed, that the pupils under instructions, make as much progress as those under the discipline of more experienced ones.

Spelling schools have become so popular in Carroll twp., that there is one held nearly every night in the week, and are so well attended that the teachers find it impossible to accommodate all with seats. The principal feature of these spelling schools is the trying "big ring." When a person observes the lady and ladies engaging in this pleasant pastime, and eagerly applying the "two-lip salve," he is almost induced to believe that they are making strenuous efforts to obey the holy command, "Love one another."

Mr. Robert Harris has commenced wagon-making at Shermansdale, in the shop formerly occupied by Mr. Joseph Duke, deceased, in the same business.

As near as could be ascertained, the ice on Sherman's creek was about sixteen inches in thickness.

Ferrets took advantage of it by crossing and recrossing, and by sleighing up and down the creek.

I had the pleasure of attending the Shermansdale singing school, under the management of Dr. Fuget; and while present, Mr. Jacob Billow delivered a humorous and interesting discourse before this association, on the subject of vocal and instrumental music.— It is indeed gratifying to listen to the delightful music, which this singing class discourses.

An announcement was made, that the Hartman Family were to hold a concert in the Mechanics' hall here, about a week ago, but on account of inclement weather, the attendance was meagre, and no entertainment was given.

Rev. J. J. Hamilton will hereafter preach in the Presbyterian church at this place, every two weeks. About a week ago, he preached a very able sermon, with which the congregation was very much pleased, and we hope encouraged and edified.

A protracted meeting is now in progress in the U. B. church here, but as yet, none have presented themselves at the altar of prayer, as seekers of the "pearl of great price."

For fear of occupying too much space in your journal, I close.

OMEGA. For "The Times."

Blain Hogs.

BLAIN, Pa., February 6, 1877. Mr. Editor:—In our last communication, we said we would give you an account of our large porkers; so here it is. Rev. Frazer of our town, killed two, one three hundred and fifty-three, and the other four hundred and fifty-three. James Crowner, one weighing four hundred; Andrew Trostle, one weighing four hundred and nine; Daniel Shaffer, one weighing four hundred and fifty-three; James Magee, one weighing four hundred and sixty-five; John Kistler, one weighing four hundred and ninety-four; Amos Wait, one weighing four hundred and the other weighing four hundred and forty (just one year old); David Bower, one weighing five hundred and five; James Morrow, one weighing five hundred and two; S. J. Smith has a larger one to kill yet, when we will give you its weight. There are a great many other porkers in this town and community, weighing from three hundred and fifty to three hundred and seventy-four; but we do not keep an account of them.
